

Why the public's Right to Know is so important

October 31, 2007 12:00 p.m. to 2:00 p.m.

Dominion Club, Member's Dining Room 2nd Floor, 1 King St. W., Toronto
(southwest corner of King and Yonge)

A lunch will be provided

Guest Speakers:

Ann Cavoukian, Ph.D Information and Privacy Commissioner, moderator
Justice Sidney B. Linden Conflict of Interest Commissioner, panelist
Andre Marin Ontario Ombudsman, panelist
Jim McCarter Auditor General of Ontario, panelist

■ Context: This is the second annual luncheon sponsored by Ontario's Information and Privacy Commissioner, Dr. Ann Cavoukian, to explore issues related to Ontarians' right to know what elected politicians and appointed civil servants are doing – and why.

Commissioner Cavoukian will serve as the moderator of a panel that includes three of her fellow Officers of the Ontario Legislature – Justice Sidney B. Linden, the recently appointed Conflict of Interest Commissioner; Andre Marin, Ontario Ombudsman; and Jim McCarter, Auditor General of Ontario.

Commissioner Cavoukian and the panelists will briefly outline what their roles are and then discuss what is working and what isn't, when it comes to government openness and transparency.

■ Objectives: The Commissioners and other Officers of the Legislature will draw the public's attention to additional steps that the government needs to take to improve openness and transparency.

■ What you will get out of it:

- A clear understanding of some of the major issues involving openness and transparency in Ontario today.
- An insightful look at the thoughts of this diverse group of Officers of the Ontario Legislature and what they want the government to act on quickly.
- Time is being set aside for a question and answer session, so you can feel free to raise questions about what has been discussed.
